Dear Tomas,

The Climate Change Leadership Institute (CCLI) is a local non profit organization dedicated to empowering our community and civil society to phase out greenhouse gas emissions. The way we strive to pursue such a big goal as such a small organization is by teamwork and seminal direct action projects.

We give out annual seed grant awards including in the field of social justice. This year we are supporting the Sustainability Commission's Social Equity Working Group as well as Chainbreaker Collective's efforts to reach out to underrepresented residents of our City to develop just and empowering ways for Santa Fe to achieve carbon neutrality by 2040.

Integrating social equity, climate action and sustainability into your community canvassing, year end gathering and new year conference is very helpful and much appreciated. In the spirit of supporting these important efforts as well as honoring Chainbreaker Collective's longstanding climate justice work and generosity in the community whether by recycling bikes for those in need or steadfastly supporting public transportation, CCLI is proud to provide you in partnership with the Social Equity Working Group with our 2016 Social Justice Seed Grant Award.

Congratulations and many thanks for all your excellent work.

Sincerely,

Robb Hirsch
Founder & Executive Director
